

October 19, 2016

---

PHOTO RELEASE: HX-21 H-60 participates in aerial photo with USS Zumwalt

---

U.S. Navy photo

CHESAPEAKE BAY, Md. -- An MH-60R assigned to Air Test and Evaluation Squadron (HX) 21 flies near USS Zumwalt (DDG 1000) as the ship travels to its new home port of San Diego, California, Oct. 17. Zumwalt was commissioned in Baltimore, Maryland, Oct. 15 and is the first in a three-ship class of the Navy's newest, most technologically advanced multi-mission guided-missile destroyers. (U.S. Navy photo)

October 19, 2016

---

PHOTO RELEASE: HX-21 H-60 participates in aerial photo with USS Zumwalt

---

CHESAPEAKE BAY, Md. -- An MH-60R assigned to Air Test and Evaluation Squadron (HX) 21 flies near USS Zumwalt (DDG 1000) as the ship travels to its new home port of San Diego, California, Oct. 17. Zumwalt was commissioned in Baltimore, Maryland, Oct. 15 and is the first in a three-ship class of the Navy's newest, most technologically advanced multi-mission guided-missile destroyers. (U.S. Navy photo)